The London Gazette.

Published by Authority.

From Saturday December 17, to Tuesday December 20, 1796.

AT the Court at St. James's, the 14th of December, 1796,

PRESENT,

The KING's Moſt Excellent Majeſty in Council.

WHEREAS His Majeſty was graciouſly pleaſed, by His Royal Proclamation bearing Date the Twenty-ſixth Day of December, 1792, to promiſe and declare, that the Bounties of Five Pounds for every Able Seaman, and Two Pounds Ten Shillings for every Ordinary Seaman, fit for His Majeſty's Service, ſhould be paid in the Manner thereby directed to every ſuch Able and Ordinary Seaman, not above the Age of Fifty nor under the Age of Twenty Years, who ſhould, on or before the Twenty-eighth Day of February then following, enter themſelves to ſerve in His Majeſty's Royal Navy, either with the Captains or Lieutenants of His Majeſty's Ships or Veſſels, or Officers employed on Shore for raiſing Men for the Service of the Royal Navy: And whereas His Majeſty was alſo graciouſly pleaſed, by his ſaid Proclamation, to declare, that all Able-bodied Landmen, not above the Age of Thirty-five nor under the Age of Twenty Years, who ſhould ſo enter themſelves as aforeſaid, ſhould receive the Sum of Thirty Shillings each Man, as His Majeſty's Royal Bounty: And whereas His Majeſty was alſo graciouſly pleaſed, by His Royal Proclamation bearing Date the Sixteenth Day of the ſaid Month of February, 1793, to promiſe and declare, that a Reward of Twenty Shillings for every Able and Ordinary Seaman, fit to ſerve on board His Majeſty's Ships, ſhould be paid to any Perſon who ſhould diſcover any Seaman or Seamen who might conceal him or themſelves, ſo that ſuch Seaman or Seamen ſhould be taken for His Majeſty's Service, on or before the Thirtieth Day of April then next, by any of His Majeſty's Sea Officers appointed to raiſe Men on Shore, or by the Captains or Commanders of any of His Majeſty's Ships or Veſſels in the Ports or on the Coaſts of this Kingdom: And whereas the Time limited by the ſaid Proclamations for Payment of the ſaid Bounties and Reward, hath been prolonged and extended to the Thirty-firſt Day of this inſtant December; and it being judged expedient for His Majeſty's Service that the ſaid Bounties and Reward ſhould be continued to be paid for ſome Time longer; His Majeſty, with the Advice of His Privy Council, doth therefore order, and it is hereby accordingly ordered, that the Time limited for Payment of the ſaid Bounties and Reward be prolonged and extended, from the ſaid Thirty-firſt Day of this inſtant December to the Twenty-eighth Day of February next incluſive:—Whereof all Perſons concerned are to take Notice, and govern themſelves accordingly.

Steph. Cottrell.

Parliament-Street, December 20, 1796.

DISPATCHES, of which the following are Extracts, have been received by the Right Honorable Henry Dundas, one of His Majeſty's Principal Secretaries of State, from Major-General Gordon Forbes, commanding His Majeſty's Troops in the Iſland of St. Domingo, dated Port-au-Prince, October 9, 1796.

I Am happy to have the Power of aſſuring you, that our Situation in St. Domingo is by far more favourable at this Time than ſince His Majeſty has been in Poſſeſſion of any Part of it. The Succeſs of the very judicious Arrangements made by Major-General Bowyer at Jeremie, and the Diviſions amongſt the Enemy in the South Part of the Iſland, where almoſt all the Republican Whites have been maſſacred ſince their Defeat, has aſſured the Safety of the important Quarter of the Grand Ance.

The ſame Spirit of Diſcord prevailing alſo in the North, and the Succeſs of our Troops towards the Spaniſh Frontiers, have encouraged the Remains of Jean François Army to co-operate with us; they have, in conſequence, fought ſeveral Battles with the Republican Party, and have ſent us a Number of Priſoners.

St. Marc's and Mole St. Nicolas are alſo in a State of perfect Security, and the Fariſh of L'Arcahaye was never in a higher State of Cultivation, nor the Negroes more peaceable and orderly than at this Moment. Indeed ſuch is the public Confidence, that the Planters are now actually importing from Jamaica a conſiderable Number of new Negroes.

Extract of a Letter from Major-General Gordon Forbes to Mr. Secretary Dundas, dated Port-au-Prince, October 9, 1796.

IT is with the utmoſt Satisfaction I have the Honor to inform you, that the Enemy, who had made Uſe of the utmoſt Exertion to collect all their Force in the Southern Part of the Colony for the Attack of Jeremie in various Points at the ſame Time, have been defeated every where, with very conſiderable Loſs on their Side, and on our Part fortunately very trifling. Major-General Bowyer, whoſe Account of the Buſineſs I incloſe, has conducted himſelf, in the difficult Situation of a Command of very extenſive Country and Poſts, in the moſt maſterly and judicious Manner; and I beg Leave to expreſs my marked Admiration of this moſt meritorious Officer, whoſe Conduct on all Occaſions will, I am confident, highly recommend him to His Majeſty's gracious Favor. I beg Leave alſo to recommend all thoſe Officers and Men under his his immediate Command, particularly Lieutenant Gilman, of the 17th Regiment of Foot, of whom he ſpeaks in Terms of high Approbation. I am happy to inform you that the Major-General, who was wounded in the above gallant Defence of the important Quarter under his Command, is perfectly recovered.

This important Defeat of the Enemy aſſures the Tranquility of Jeremie, and particularly as it is certain Rigaud, the Chief of the Blacks to the Southward, has decidedly declared againſt Santhonax and the Republic, and has cauſed almoſt all the White People in his Power to be maſſacred..

Government Houſe, Jeremie Houſe, September 3, 1796.

SIR,

FROM the Intelligence you will probably have received from other Quarters, you will not be ſurprized to hear of the Poſts on the Extremities of this Dependency, both Eaſt and Weſt, being attacked in Force on the ſame Day. On the 8th of Auguſt I ordered Lieutenant Bradſhaw, with Twenty-two of the 13th Light Dragoons, mounted, to march for Du Centre; and Captain Whitby, Two Subalterns, and Sixty Privates of the 17th Light Dragoons, with Non-commiſſioned Officers in Proportion, embarked the ſame Evening for Caymites, from whence they arrived, without any Accident, at Du Centre and Raimond, which was a fortunate Circumſtance, as the next Day, the 11th, the Enemy appeared before Poſt Raimond, and, after keeping a very heavy Fire on the Block Houſe, with little Effect, they attempted to ſtorm it in conſiderable Force Four different Times, and were each Time repulſed with great Loſs, and their Chief killed. In this Buſineſs only One Britiſh and Two Chaſſeurs were wounded. On Captain Whitby's Arrival at Du Centre he detached Lieutenant Gilman, of the 17th Light Dragoons, with Twenty Men, to Poſt Raimond, who immediately placed himſelf in the Block Houſe with his Detachment and a larger Party of Chaſſeurs. On the 12th the Enemy ſtill continued before the Block Houſe, which is ſituated on a ſmall Height about One Hundred Yards from the Fort, keeping up a Fire with Muſquetry with as little Effect as before, when Lieutenant Gilman made a ſucceſsful Sortie with the whole of the 17th and ſome Chaſſeurs, driving the Enemy before him into the Woods, who left Sixteen Whites and Forty-ſeven Blacks dead on the Spot, and many dead and wounded were afterwards found in the Woods and Road leading over the Mountains to Aux Cayes. Some Four-Pound Shot, a Two-Pounder mounted, ſeveral Firelocks, and other Articles, were left by the Enemy in their Retreat. I am happy to report, that in this gallant Affair the 17th Regiment had only Two Privates wounded. The Chaſſeurs had One Officer, Captain Dutoya, and Three Chaſſeurs killed, and Fourteen wounded. It is ſuppoſed the Loſs of the Enemy muſt have been very conſiderable indeed, as from every Account of Spies and Deſerters, above Forty Whites are among the Killed and thoſe dead of their Wounds and found in the Woods, which I can eaſily conceive, as the Aſſault of the Block Houſe was made by about Two Hundred Whites, formerly Soldiers in the Regiment of Berwick, aſſiſted by the Brigands.

Captain Whitby reports, that the Honor of the Britiſh Service was never more ably maintained than in the Engagement at Poſt Raimond, and expreſſes himſelf highly grateful to Lieutenant Gilman and the Soldiers of the 17th, as well as thoſe of the Colonial Corps, for their active Exertions in ſo bravely checking the Enemy in the Attempt on this Poſt.

Indeed Lieutenant Gilman's Intrepidity and cool Conduct on this Occaſion appear to me ſo praiſeworthy, that I ſhould not do Juſtice to him or my own Feelings on this Occaſion, if I did not ſtrongly recommend him to you, Sir, for Promotion.

I am alſo happy to have it in my Power to report that the Enemy has been under the Neceſſity of raiſing the Siege of Irois, before which they lay Eighteen Days. On the 11th Ultimo General Rigaud, with Three or Four Thouſand Brigands, appeared before it, and ſent a Summons to Captain Beamiſh to ſurrender the Fort to the Republic of France. Captain Beamiſh very properly anſwered, he ſhould defend it to the laſt Extremity. The Enemy had in the Night landed a Sixteen-Pounder and a Mortar, which, with incredible Labour, they got up, and opened on the Fort the next Day, within about Four Hundred and Fifty Yards. The Moment I heard Irois was inveſted I ordered One Hundred Privates, Officers and Non-Commiſſioned Officers in Proportion, with Lieutenant-Colonel Hooke of the 17th, to embark for that Place, where they arrived ſafe. Lieutenant-Colonel Hooke took the Command of the Fort and Troops, in which Station he has rendered very meritorious Services.

Finding the Enemy had advanced a conſiderable Force between Irois and L'Ance Eros, which ſhut up by Land the Communication with Jeremie, I determined, with what Force I could collect, to attack them on the Morne Gautier. On my Arrival at L'Ance Eros, the 16th, a Plan was agreed upon to march in Three Columns on the 19th, ſo as to arrive before Morne Gautier at Day-Break. Obſerving on my Approach that a few Men of the 17th Dragoons were killed and wounded, and that firing at a Diſtance anſwered no Purpoſe, I determined to attempt to carry the Hill by Aſſault, had formed the 17th Dragoons for that Purpoſe, ordered the 13th to diſmount, and was endeavouring to rally the Negroes, who had been thrown into ſome Confuſion, when I received a Shot in my Left Breaſt, which cauſed me to fall from my Horſe: Afterwards I knew nothing of what paſſed, except by Report; and I was ſorry to hear that we were under the Neceſſity of retreating, with the Loſs of the Three-Pounder we had with us.

Fortunately this little Check did not affect the the Safety of the Fort; on the contrary the Enemy, who muſt have ſuffered more than ourſelves, evacuated Gautier, and retired the next Day to Rigaud, on the other Side of Irois; and on the 29th Lieutenant-Colonel Hooke wrote me, he had raiſed the Siege entirely: So that, Sir, I may now congratulate you on this Dependency being wholly freed from the Enemy, and on your having it in your Power to acquaint His Majeſty's Miniſters, that he has been beaten and failed in every Quarter of this Iſland under your Command.

I have

I have not hitherto been able to procure exact Returns of the Killed and Wounded, but I conceive that the 17th Regiment had about Seven killed and Fourteen or Fifteen wounded: None dangerously in my Affair of the 19th Ultimo. Lieutenant-Colonel Hooke has not yet made his Report: But I do not believe more than Two were killed at Irois, and Three or Four wounded; so that the Enemy's Shot and Shells had little Effect.

I am sorry to say that my Brigade-Major Manners received a Ball through his Thigh; but as it missed the Bone, no bad Effect will arise, and he is doing well.

I have the Honor to be, &c.

HEN. BOWYER, Major-General.

Downing-Street, December 20.

DISPATCHES, of which the following are Extracts, have been received from Robert Craufurd, Esq; by the Right Honorable Lord Grenville, His Majesty's Principal Secretary of State for Foreign Affairs.

Head Quarters of His Royal Highness the Archduke Charles of Austria, Offenburg, November 23, 1796.

My Lord,

I Have the Honor to inform your Lordship, that in the Night from the 21st to the 22d, the Trenches were opened before Kehl, on the Right Bank of the Kinzig. The first Parallel of this Attack, with it's Communications, proceeding from the Right and Left Flank of the Right Wing of the Line of Contravallation, were so far completed during the Night, that before Day-Break the Men were tolerably covered. The Enemy did not attempt to interrupt the Work, nor had he yet fired a single Shot upon the Trenches; but early Yesterday Morning (the 22d) he made a sudden Attack upon the Left Wing of the Line of Contravallation, and, after an Action, than which nothing could be possibly more severe, was driven back into his Works with very great Loss.

The Enemy having, in the Course of the Night from the 21st to 22d brought over a large Body of Troops from Strasbourg, formed his Columns of Attack close behind the Chain of his advanced Posts, with so much Silence that they were not perceived. Just before the Break of Day, (which however was rendered extremely obscure by a very thick Mist that lasted the greater Part of the Forenoon) these Columns began to advance. The Instant the Austrian Videttes and Centries gave their Fire, which was the only Notice of the approaching Attack, the Enemy's Infantry rushed on with the utmost Impetuosity, without firing a Shot, and in an Instant they were Masters of Two Redoubts of the Left of the first Line. The Village of Sundheim was attacked in the same Manner, and with equal Success; after which, coming in the Rear of the Curtain that connects the Village with the first Redoubt to it's Left, the Enemy immediately carried that Work, one Face of which was not quite finished. Upon this large Bodies of their Infantry rushed through the Openings in the Curtains on the whole Front of this Wing; and, whilst Part advanced against the second Line, the others endeavoured to make themselves Masters of the remaining Redoubts of the first; but these, though perfectly left to themselves for a considerable Time, entirely surrounded, cut off from every Assistance, and attacked with Fury by the Enemy, who frequently got into the Ditches and attempted to climb the Parapet, were defended in a Manner that reflects the highest Honor on the Officers and Troops that were in them. The Loss in all of these Redoubts was considerable, and in one the Artillery Drivers were at last obliged to fire the Guns, but all the Attacks were repulsed.

The Enemy's Right Column, after occupying the Two Works which they had carried, pushed on between the Dykes to attack the Left of the second Line; but Prince Frederic of Orange (whose gallant and judicious Conduct cannot sufficiently be praised) having rallied his Brigade, placed a Part of his Infantry behind the Dyke, which connects the third Redoubt from the Left of the first Line with the Work which is on the Left of the second; and in this Situation he resisted the most severe Attack that can be imagined upon his Front, whilst those Bodies of the Enemy's Infantry, which had pierced between the Redoubt of the first Line, were actually in his Rear, he not only maintained his Post, but completely checked the Enemy's Progress on this Flank.

A great Part of the Troops of the Left Wing had been working in the Trenches on the Right of the Kinzig. General Latour, who commands the Army of the Siege, formed Three of these Battalions which happened to be just returning from Work, and retook the Village of Sundheim, which he maintained, though the Enemy made great Efforts to dislodge him. Lieutenant-General Staader (who commands the Left Wing) drove back the Enemy, who had advanced against the Right of the second Line of it, and retook the Redoubt on the Left of Sundheim: And the Prince of Orange, advancing between the Two Dykes, defeated the Column with which he had been so severely engaged, and recovered the Redoubts it had carried. The Enemy then retired into his entrenched Camp.

The Loss of the Austrians amounted to Forty Officers and about Thirteen Hundred Men killed, wounded, and missing, which, considering that not more than Half the Left Wing was engaged, is certainly considerable; but that of the French must have been much greater. The Ground round the Works was in some Parts covered with their dead Bodies, and I am very much within Bounds in stating their Loss at Two Thousand Men. During the Time the French were in Possession of the Redoubts on the Left, they found Means to carry off Five Pieces of Cannon. The others were all retaken.

It is impossible to attempt to do Justice to the Conduct of the Archduke; He animated the Troops in retaking Sundheim, directed the Attacks on the Work that had been lost to the Left of it, and, under the heaviest Fire, gave his Orders with the greatest Coolness and the most perfect military Knowledge.

Lieutenant Proby, of His Majesty's 9th Regiment of Foot, (attached to Lieutenant-Colonel Craufurd's Mission) was wounded by a Musket Shot; but I feel great Satisfaction in being able to add that the Wound is of a very slight Nature, and will have no other Consequence whatever than that of a very short Confinement.

I have the Honor to be, &c.

(Signed) ROB. CRAUFURD.

Head Quarters of His Royal Highneſs the Archduke Charles of Auſtria, Offenburg, November 23, 1796.

My Lord,

IT is with much Satisfaction that I have the Honor to inform your Lordſhip, that, after an Interval of Ten Days without any Advices from Italy, His Royal Highneſs the Archduke has this Day received a Report from General Alvinzy, the Tenor of which is ſuch as to confirm the Hopes which his former Diſpatches inſpired. This Report, which is very ſhort, is dated Calabro, November 13, and is in Subſtance as follows.

After the Action of the 6th, near Baſſano, the Enemy continued to retreat, abandoned even the ſtrong Poſition of Montabello without Reſiſtance, and croſſed Adige at Verona.

On the 11th General Alvinzy arrived near Villanova, and the ſame Evening a conſiderable Part of the Enemy's Army, commanded by Buonaparte in Perſon, advanced from Verona, and took Poſt in the neighbouring Mountains.

Early on the 12th Buonaparte commenced a general Attack upon the whole Line, which, though made with infinite Violence, was reſiſted with the moſt perfect Steadineſs and Bravery.

Whilſt Buonaparte was thus employed, in repeated though ineffectual Efforts to force the Front of the Poſition, General Alvinzy detached a Column againſt each of his Flanks. No ſooner had theſe arrived at their Point of Attack, than the Enemy retreated with Precipitation; and a moſt ſevere and important Affair was thus completely decided in Favor of the Auſtrians.

Two of the Enemy's Generals were known to have been wounded, and a third was amongſt the Number of Priſoners already brought in.

Head Quarters of His Royal Highneſs the Archduke Charles of Auſtria, Offenburg, November 28, 1796.

My Lord,

I Have the Honor to inform your Lordſhip, that after the Affair of the 22d Inſtant nothing remarkable happened here till the Night from the 26th to the 27th, in which the Enemy made a Sally, in conſiderable Force, againſt the firſt Parallel of the Attack on the Right Bank of the Kinzig. The Enemy was inſtantly repulſed, with the Loſs of about Forty killed and wounded. Amongſt the Killed was the Commandant of a Battalion.

The Batteries of the firſt Parallel, as well as the Guns in all the Redoubts to the Right and Left of it, commenced Firing this Morning; and in the Courſe of the Forenoon the Enemy's Advanced Poſts were driven out of the Village of Kehl.

I have the Honor to be, &c.

Head Quarters of His Royal Highneſs the Archduke Charles, Offenburg, November 27, 1796.

My Lord,

IT is with much Satisfaction that I have the Honor to inform your Lordſhip, that His Royal Highneſs the Archduke has this Day received a Report from General Davidowich, dated Piovezano, November 18, in which he gives an Account of his having, on the preceding Day, attacked and entirely defeated the Enemy on the Heights of Rivoli.

The Attack commenced about Seven in the Morning of the 17th, and, after a moſt obſtinate Reſiſtance, the Enemy was entirely driven from his Poſition, and purſued as far as Camba a.

General Davidowich took Twelve Cannon, about Eleven Hundred Priſoners, and many Officers. Amongſt the latter are Generals Fiorella and Valette. He praiſes, in the warmeſt Terms, the Conduct of his Generals, and the Diſcipline and remarkable Bravery of his Troops.

The Enemy having, in the Courſe of the Night from the 17th to the 18th, received conſiderable Reinforcements, took another Poſition on the Heights near Cambara; in which General Davidowich attacked him the next Morning, and drove him back beyond Peſchierra.

I have the Honour to be, &c.

Copy of a Letter from Rear-Admiral Bazely, Commanding Officer of His Majeſty's Ships and Veſſels in the Downs, to Evan Nepean, Eſq; dated December 17, 1796.

SIR,

YOU will be pleaſed to acquaint their Lordſhips, that I this Morning received a Letter from Mr. Nick. Simmons, Maſter of the Lion armed Cutter, dated Seaford Roads, the 15th Inſtant, giving me an Account of his having the Day before captured, off the Owers, after a Chace of Four Hours and a Half, the Hazard French Cutter Privateer, mounting Two Carriage Guns, and Two Swivels, with Small Arms, and Seventeen Men, which had been out Two Days from Fecamp, but had not captured any Thing.

I am, &c. &c. &c.

JOHN BAZELY.

Copy of a Letter from Captain Talbot, of His Majeſty's Ship Eurydice, to Rear-Admiral Bazely, dated in Dover Road the 16th of December, 1796.

LAST Night I captured La Sphinx French Privateer, of Forty-ſix Tons and Twenty-ſix Men, from Dunkirk, on a Cruize; ſhe left it Yeſterday at Twelve o'Clock, and had not taken any Thing; ſhe is Southampton-built, and has made a Practice of running along Shore as a Coaſter. The laſt Cruize ſhe was at Sea ſhe was boarded by one of the armed Luggers in the North Sea, but got clear by producing Swediſh Papers. I have ſent her into Dover Harbour, Harbour, and, when I have landed the Priſoners, ſhall immediately proceed to my Station. She had nothing but Small Arms on Board.

I am, &c. &c. &c.
